

SECONDARY MATH TEACHERS WORKSHOP SERIES

A Professional Learning Network for New and Experienced Secondary Math Teachers

New Horizons in the Secondary Math Classroom

Free to attend!

with DEBORAH COSTELLO

- ‡ Learn effective strategies for building strong student-teacher relationships
- ‡ Dive into educational neuroscience
- ‡ Master the art of curriculum design for secondary math
- ‡ Discover pedagogical techniques to make math come alive in your classroom

TECO Hall, College of Education, University of South Florida, Tampa, FL 33620. For more information and resources, visit www.usf.edu/teco.

Free to attend; space is limited. To register, please visit www.usf.edu/teco.

MEET THE FACILITATOR

Deborah Costello

Deborah Costello has been teaching mathematics, grades 6 algebra to AP Calculus, for 36 years in Illinois, Florida, and Massachusetts. Most recently she was the Assistant Dean of Faculty and a math teacher at Deerfield Academy. She has also served as a consultant, writer, and grader for the College Board. Deb has presented summer institutes on AP Calculus for USF, UWV, Augsburg, Florida Atlantic, and many other high schools and colleges across the country. In addition, she spoke on calculators, calculus, and technology at FETC, FCIS, and the AP Calculus Convention. Deb lives in Orlando and is married with two grown sons. She enjoys photography, travel, and her rambunctious puppies, Callisto and Tycho.

For more information, please contact:
Rachel Hatten, Ph.D.
Email rachelhatte@usf.edu
Phone: 813-974-5959

David C. Anchin Center for the Advancement of Teaching